County Administrator Announces Key Staff Appointments

Woodbine, Ga. (December 2, 2014) – County Administrator Steve Howard is pleased to announce the appointment of two highly qualified candidates to key staff positions. Eric Landon is the new Planning and Development Director and Shannon Nettles will work as a Management Analyst focusing on improving performance and processes within the county.

Eric Landon began working with county staff in July of this year when Camden County entered into a Professional Services Agreement with the Coastal Regional Commission (CRC) for professional planning services. As part of that agreement the county was allowed to directly employ CRC assigned staff.

Landon brings a unique combination of experience and education to Camden County. He worked as a County Planner in Glynn County for 10 years and also held the same position for two years in Nassau County, Fla. In addition, Landon also served for several years as the Glynn County Transportation Planner and the Glynn County Grants Coordinator in addition to his County Planner responsibilities.

Academically Landon is also well qualified. He holds a Bachelors degree in Political Science and a Masters degree in Public Administration from Georgia Southern University. Administrator Howard said Landon is a natural fit within the county administration and will serve the people of Camden County well.

"Eric brings a wealth of planning experience and he will be an excellent resource to advance our efforts to create a "one-stop shop" permitting process. I look forward to Eric joining the Camden County Team." Landon will assume his new role with Camden County on December 08, 2014.

Shannon Nettles also brings an abundance of experience and education to her new Management Analyst position. She has 16 years of experience working for governmental and non-profit organizations. Prior to taking this position Nettles was a Senior Staff Assistant at the Jacksonville Transportation Authority (JTA) where she was responsible for assisting in the planning of special customer based projects and internal employee programs. She also helped develop the Annual Report and Strategic Plan. Nettles also worked for three years as the Economic Development Associate for the Camden County Joint Development Authority.
