

Camden County Superior Court Clerk, Joy Lynn Turner

Ms. Turner is a lifelong resident of Camden County and graduated from Camden County High School in 1978. After working in the family business for several years and with the Camden County School System from 1988 until 1994, she continued her studies at Coastal Georgia Community College and received her paralegal certification.

Joy Lynn worked with attorney Andrew A. Taylor from 1995 until 1998 and in 2000, she came to work for the Camden County District Attorney's Office.

Joy Lynn was elected as Clerk of Superior Court in 2001 to administer the proper registration and retention of official documents. She serves with an acute awareness of the impact the records of Superior Court have on the lives of past, present and future residents. Joy Lynn takes pride in the preservation of the records, accuracy of information and the greater accessibility by all interested parties.

The Clerk of Court office also handles the following:

- Civil and Criminal Proceedings;
- Real Estate and Personal Property Transactions;
- Jury System Administration;
- Child Support Receiver;
- Board of Equalization Administration; and,
- Passports.

Joy Lynn has been married to William C. "Bill" Turner for 36 years. They have three children and eight grandchildren and reside in Woodbine, GA.