Silent Auction and Town Hall Meeting to benefit The Miracle League of Camden County

Woodbine, Ga. (September 17, 2010) – In an effort to raise funds and community awareness about The Miracle League of Camden County, members of the Board of County Commissioner’s HOPE (Helping Other People Everyday) Committee will be hosting a Silent Auction and Town Hall Meeting on Thursday, October 7, 2010 at the College of Coastal Georgia (8001 Lakes Blvd, Kingsland).

Beginning at 6:00 p.m. with the silent auction, Prestige Prints will be auctioning off a variety of items such as high and low end sports, musician, and celebrity memorabilia and prints. Collegiate items from the Universities of Georgia and Florida, as well as Florida State will also be available. There will be something available for everyone!

The town hall meeting will begin at 7:00 p.m. where Jeff and Tina Norris, founders of the Miracle League of Camden County, will share their story of how they were inspired to build such a field in this community. The specialized field, which will be named “Justin’s Miracle Field” in their son’s honor, will enable children and adults with special needs to play the game of baseball. Additionally, a representative from the Miracle League Association office, located in Conyers, Georgia, will be there to promote this worthwhile initiative and provide facts about the history and benefits a Miracle League field can bring to a community such as Camden County and its surrounding areas.
