FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

County Receives Land Donation

WOODBINE, GEORGIA – February 22, 2017 – The Board of County Commissioners graciously accepted a deed from the Southeastern Trust for Parks and Land (STPAL) at last night's scheduled Board Meeting. The Trust, an accredited 501-C-3 land trust based in Cobb County, Georgia, donated 296.23 acres of land to the County for the creation of a passive park in Kingsland, Georgia.

STPAL is dedicated to the preservation, enhancement, and protection of land in its natural state for the responsible use of future generations. In order to preserve and protect the acreage, STPAL agreed to donate the property if the Board of Commissioners agreed to the deed restrictions of permanent conservation of the property. The future site will always be available for free or low cost use by the general public for passive nature-based recreation.

As part of the County's ongoing Strategic Plan, our Vision 2032 includes Abundant Leisure Choices for All, and plays a role in the future development of a passive recreation area within the limits of Camden County that will benefit its citizens and the surrounding areas. Commissioner Chuck Clark said, "We are thrilled with the donation and will always be grateful to the STPAL for this passive park site. We look forward to welcoming our citizens to the site in the coming months."

About Camden County: Located in the extreme southeast corner of Georgia, Camden County truly is "Georgia's Coastal Community of Choice." Originally formed in 1777, Camden County is best known for its rich history, natural scenic beauty and Southern hospitality. Our vision is helping to make this the best place to live by preserving and enhancing the history and quality of life, while promoting smart growth and providing an efficient, effective and responsive government.
